! To print a PMS colour onto a black or coloured bottle you need to print a white underlay. Without the white underlay a printed pms colour will become darker. The underlay is slightly smaller than the printed design. Where the underlay is smaller, the printed colour will be darker and it seems like a line of a different colour is printed around the logo. This is the reaction of the ink without the white underlay. Unfortunately, the dark outline cannot be avoided. Therefore, please inform your customer about this deviation!

Due to the nature of the material,
the Shanti cap is more sensitive to scuff marks.
